THE LATEST.

Auditor's Agent F. Stanley Watson has filed information at Maysville against the Vanderbilt interests, asking the Mason County Court to assess them for county and State taxation for every year since 1892 on their Chesapeake and Ohio railway stock, valued at $186,000,000. The petition sets forth that the Vanderbilts control the Maysville and Big Sandy railroad under a ninety-nine year lease and that it has never been listed for taxation. The case is set for the March term of the Mason County Court.

Webster county authorities have taken Kilt Barnaby, John Forsythe and a negro prisoner to Henderson for safe keeping because of alleged threats of releasing the men by union miners at Sturgis. The three prisoners are under indictment for complicity in the shooting at Providence. A negro prisoner was taken away from an officer at Sturgis Wednesday by men supposed to be union miners.

William Austin Kent, of Louisville, and John W. Taylor, chief engineer of the St. Louis Terminal Association, were instantly killed in North St. Louis yesterday, leaping from a motor car to be ground to pieces by a switch engine.
Another companion jumped and was uninjured, while three others remained in the motor car and crossed the tracks in safety.

At Madisonville yesterday the conspiracy cases against Plackman, Oates and other miners' union leaders were dismissed at the instance of the prosecution, after County Judge Hall had accused to a demand of the defense to vacate the bench. A motion for bail in the cases of Wood, Barnaby and others will be made at Dixon next Wednesday.

"Historian" Edgar S. MacLay was yesterday summarily discharged from the Navy Yard for his recent utterances. The Civil Service Commission decided he was not entitled to a hearing. He left the Navy Yard immediately after receiving notice of his dismissal, but said he would report for duty to-day.

A Siberian paper says American capitalists have offered the Russian Government $6,000,000 roubles for a fifty-year lease on land containing rich deposits of copper, coal and silver. Senator Clark, of Montana, is said to be interested in the same land.

Gen. Bartolomeo Maso has abandoned his campaign for the presidency of Cuba. A Havana paper says Gen. Maso has threatened to "string up" a few political enemies when the Cuban republic is formed.

Gen. Miles resumed his duties at the War Department yesterday. It is said he has decided to accept the situation with grace. Recent occurrences are not expected to make great changes in his prearranged plans.

The badly decomposed body of a man was found in the steeple of a negro church near Birmingham, Ala. It is not known whether the man was white or black. A big knife was found near the body.

It is announced that the new constitution of the Methodist Episcopal Church has been adopted by the three-quarters vote required from the various annual conferences.

The fight between the friends of Senators Hanna and Foraker for control of the Ohio Legislature began yesterday with the announcement of the Hanna crowd's slate.

A surplus of about $50,000,000 will be sent to the new Secretary of the Treasury. The surplus is constantly increasing, despite the reduction of the internal revenue tax.

Former President Grover Cleveland has accepted appointment to the industrial department of the National Civic Federation created at the recent peace conference.

The B. and O. Railroad Company will begin at once to sell through tickets between the North and South, via Washington, in connection with the Southern.

The Navy Department has taken the initial steps for the adoption of wireless telegraphy as a means of signaling between warships at sea.

A census statement shows a gain of over 25 per cent. in the value of cotton manufacturing products in the United States since 1890.

A gasoline yacht bearing two sons of Thomas A. Edison and others is reported to have been wrecked on Cedar Island, S. C.

Pullman car porters have been incorporated under the Illinois laws. Tipping is going out of date and larger salaries are wanted.

The Board of Aldermen last night adopted the ordinance fixing the tax rate at $1.50 on the $100 valuation.

Gov. John H. Rogers, of Washington State, died last night at Olympia.

INSPECTING ST. LOUIS TERMIN-ALS WITH CHIEF ENGINEER.

FOUR OTHERS ESCAPE UNHURT

One Also Leaped, But Three Remained Seated, Crossing Safely Wabash Tracks.

BODY WILL BE BROUGHT HERE.

St. Louis, Dec. 26.—[Special.]—John W. Taylor, chief engineer of the Terminal Railroad Association, and William Austin Kent, whose home is in Louisville, were ground to death beneath the wheels of a Wabash switch engine at Second and May streets in North St. Louis this afternoon, in jumping panic-stricken from a swiftly-moving gasoline motor car which threatened to collide with the switch engine. The car, which was running upon the Terminal railroad tracks, whizzed across the Wabash tracks, clearing the engine in safety.

But of the six occupants of the car three thought a collision inevitable and jumped. Taylor and Kent, overbalanced after the jump because of the speed at which the car was going, pitched forward and fell upon the Wabash tracks directly in front of the engine.

Mark Ewing, attorney for the Terminal Association, the third man who ventured to leave the car, luckily alighted on the side opposite the oncoming engine and stopped himself before reaching the rails.

Barney Frauenthal, chief of the Bureau of Information at Union station, and John and Dr. Ben Schwab, of Ironton, Mo., were those who remained on the car and escaped without injury.

On a Tour of Inspection.
The party, which had left Union station at noon, headed by Taylor, had been inspecting the new belt line in course of construction by the Terminal railroad and were returning home. The car, which is operated like an automobile, was allowed to run at full speed.

Just west of the Wabash crossing the Terminal tracks curve between two large factories. Along this stretch of track Barney Frauenthal had the guidance of the car, under the supervision of Taylor. No regular Wabash trains were due at this time. There was little thought of danger, but as the curve was rounded and the Wabash crossing could be seen 100 feet in front an engine's puffing was heard. An instant later the switch engine, south-bound and running backward, appeared. Then both car and engine were probably within seventy-five feet of the crossing, with the car a little the nearest.

Decided To Race For It.
Frauenthal judged that the car would pass. He thought that to reverse the motor would mean certainly a crash, and he decided to make a race for it.

None of those in the party who survived can tell just how narrowly a collision was averted. The next remembered branch of Frauenthal is of bringing the

AMERICAN COMPANY BUILDS LIGHTERS FOR PHILIPPINE TRADE

They Will Be Steam-Propelled and Will Be Used For General Harbor Work and Interisland Trade and Are Calculated To Stimulate American Commerce.

New York, Dec. 26.—[Special.]— Within two weeks there will sail from this port for Manila a steamship owned by the Philippine Transportation and Construction Company, which will carry the first installment of steam lighters with which it is proposed to revolutionize conditions of commerce in the Philippine Islands. The company has built nineteen of these lighters at an average cost of $28,000. Lighterage charges at Manila are now about $450 Mexican a hundred tons. With these new lighters the company proposes to reduce the charges to seventeen cents Mexican a hundred tons.
The company, it is stated, has already expended $500,000 in preparing to do business in the Philippines, which it intends to do a general harbor, lighterage and interisland business. The company will establish a huge monthly steamer from New York to Manila, beginning next month. Russell Tole-grove, who is to be the traffic manager of the company at Manila, was in this city to-day, and with the general counsel for the company, Franklin Brooks, 25 Broad street, gave out a statement, in which he says: These lighters of ours are steam self-propelled steel barges, with a loaded radio of 40 tons. They have steam hoists, and they can do their work in any weather.
The capacity of each is 40 tons. Ninteen of them are completed and are now awaiting shipment at the Morgan Iron Works. With these barges will go a complete machine shop, to be set up in Manila. There is no up-to-date machine shop there. We are going to be able to repair our own boats, and those of other folks, too. A full complement of American skilled workmen will be taken along.
We mean to make American trade feel in the new American possessions. Our barges will be the only American bottoms out there except naval vessels. We hope to see a lot more there soon.

SONS OF INVENTOR EDISON SHIPWRECKED ON AN ISLAND

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 26.—It was reported from Beaufort, S. C., to-day that the gasoline yacht Onananche, in which the two sons of Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, and the wife of one of them, with several friends, recently passed through Norfolk en route to Florida waters, has been wrecked on Cedar Island, near Beaufort. No particulars came with the report.

Mr. J. Percival Phelan, Mr. Kent's business associate, telegraphed to Judge James S. Pirtle, Mr. Kent's uncle, as soon as he heard of his friend's death.
The telegram was brief—merely stating that Mr. Kent was killed by a train and his body would be prepared at once for shipment.

At 5:15 o'clock the chief of police of St. Louis notified Col. Gunther by telegraph of the death of Mr. Kent, and asked that his relatives be notified immediately.

Judge Pirtle telegraphed to Mr. Phelan to send the body so as to reach Louisville Saturday morning.
Probably in all the city there was not a young man better known than Mr.
Kent. He was thirty-one years of age and was connected with many of the prominent families of the South and East. His father was William Austin Kent, for many years member of the firm of Stauffer, Kent & Co., of New Orleans, one of the best-known wholesale hardware firms in the United States. His grandfather was Gov. Kent, of Maine.

Mr. Kent was born in New Orleans.
He was educated at Exeter, Mass., and while a student was prominent in college life. He was especially prominent as an athlete and was a member of the baseball team. He was graduated about ten years ago and came direct to Louisville.

Mr. Kent's first position was with W.
B. Belknap & Co. He remained with the firm for several years and then resigned to accept a position with Andrew Cowan & Co.

Mr. Kent was prominent in Louisville society. An excellent family and a magnetic personality contributed to his popularity. He left Louisville about two months ago. He went to St. Louis to accept a position with Mr. Phelan. The latter several years ago owned a summer home at Anchorage and he and Mr.
Kent became warm friends. When he left two months ago his relatives saw him for the last time.

His mother, Mrs. Henry J. Tilford, and a sister, Miss Lillie Kent, survive.
The body will reach Louisville at 7:45 o'clock to-morrow morning. It will be taken to Judge Pirtle's home, 1015 Third avenue, where the funeral services will be held. The time has not been definitely set.

Wireless Telegraphy
TO BE USED ON WARSHIPS.
Navy Department Has Taken Initial Steps Toward Introduction of Service.

Washington, Dec. 26.—The Navy Department has taken the initial steps toward the adoption of wireless telegraphy as a means of signaling between warships at sea. To this end Rear Admiral Bradford, of the Bureau of Equipment, has asked that the armored cruisers of the Pennsylvania class have their masts and rigging so arranged that the wireless system can be introduced. This will necessitate the lengthening of the masts of the ships and the insulation of the metal rigging by the use of hemp covering for halyards.

It is intended to get test sets of instruments of the various wireless systems now being operated. These include the Marconi system. This, however, the Navy Department has not adopted any system, but the construction of the new ships resulted as a preliminary to the adoption of a system whenever its practicability is established. The British navy, it is known, has a number of its ships equipped with the wireless system, but this is the first move on the part of the American navy to make use of a wireless plan.

COL. OCHILTREE BETTER.
He Is Suffering From An Attack of Pneumonia.

New York, Dec. 26.—Col. Thomas P.
Ochiltree, who has been ill for some days with a severe attack of pneumonia, is expected to be in condition to leave his residence within a few days. Col.
Ochiltree's physicians were for a time of the opinion that the attack might result seriously, but they now say that he will be able to take a trip to the hot springs of Virginia within a week or two.

BIG SUIT

Against the Vanderbilts Filed At Maysville.

BY STATE AUDITOR'S AGENT.

TO ASSESS RAILROAD PROPERTY FOR TAXES SINCE 1892.

MAYSVILLE AND BIG SANDY.

Lease Has Market Value of Twenty Millions and Has Never Been Listed For Taxation.

CASE TO BE TRIED IN MARCH.

Maysville, Ky., Dec. 26.—[Special.]— The Auditor's agent, F. Stanley Watson, has filed information against William K. Vanderbilt, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt and the executor of Cornelius K. Vanderbilt, asking the Mason County Court to assess them for county and State taxation each year since 1892 on their Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company stock, valued at $186,000,000.
The petition filed sets out that said railway company is incorporated in Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky; that it has leased for ninety-nine years the Maysville and Big Sandy railroad from Ashland to Newport; that said lease has a market value of $20,000,000, and has never been listed for taxation;
that said company enjoys a franchise of the value of $15,000,000 that has never been taxed, and by the failure of the corporation to list said lease and franchise for taxation in this State, the said Vanderbilts became liable for taxes upon the $16,000 shares held by each of them in each of the three incorporations known as the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company.

The procedure is by warning order process, and the case is set for the March term of County Court. The action involves the largest sum of money ever before in litigation in this county.

BATTLESHIPS

ANCHORED OFF THE ISLAND OF CURACAO.

The German Cruiser Viento Is Expected At The Port Soon.

La Guayra, Venezuela, Dec. 26, via Haytian Cable.—The United States battleship Indiana has arrived at Willemstad, Island of Curacao. The British cruiser Triton and the Dutch cruiser Utrecht have arrived here.

The German cruiser Viento is expected to reach this port soon.

Venezuelans Gathering.

Fort de France, Island of Martinique, Dec. 26, via Haytian Cable.—Large numbers of Venezuelans have arrived here.

Gen. Matos, the reputed leader of the revolution against President Castro, is said here. The British steamer Ban Righ remains anchored off the city.
It is alleged that the vessel has on board five million cartridges and ten thousand Manner rifles.

Yellow Fever Epidemic Reported.

Washington, Dec. 26.—The battleship Indiana has arrived at Willemstad, Island of Curacao. There have been reports that there was yellow fever at Curacao and as the Navy Department does not wish to subject the crew of the Indiana to any danger, inquiry was instituted by the officials here to learn whether the disease was prevalent there. To make sure a dispatch was sent to the commander of the Indiana to report on the yellow fever situation. If there is any danger the Indiana will not return here.

WARRING FACTIONS
BREAK UP A REVIVAL.

When the Shooting Was Over the Church Was Empty Save For Preacher and Wounded.

Pikeston, O., Dec. 26.—Six men were fatally wounded in a general fight at a small country church at Pike Postoffice last night and a panic took place among the worshippers. A series of religious meetings were in progress at the church and the building was filled, when Charles and Orrin Day appeared slightly intoxicated and announced that they had "come to clean out the Leggs"—a family with which the Days had had frequent quarrels. A general fight resulted in the church and around it. Women and children shrieked and sought safety from revolvers and knives by jumping out of the windows.

Only the minister, Mr. Rows, remained. At the close six men lay fatally wounded. Orrin and Charles Day, Wesley Legg, Joseph Williams, John Currant and Lebanon Williams. Physicians were called from Pikeston and Idaho to attend the wounded men, and the Sheriff was notified. Many others were slightly injured.

A Killing At Jackson.

Jackson, Ky., Dec. 26.—E. A. Bullock was shot and killed to-day on the outskirts of the city. Estil Back Johnson Hubbrook and Joshua Miller have been arrested and a warrant issued for the arrest of Claude Day, Miller, who has just returned home from serving a sentence in the penitentiary, received a bad wound in the arm. Bullock leaves a widow and two daughters.

PORTERS OF PULLMAN CARS ORGANIZE FOR BETTER PAY

Chicago, Dec. 26.—[Special.]—Pullman car porters running out of Chicago have perfected an organization. Incorporation papers were issued to-day to Morris Burroughs, John W. Williams and Spencer Corbin for the Colored Men's Railway Men's League. This move was started last fall. At that time it was said the custom of tipping had died out and the porters were not paid enough money to live on with this source of income shut off. The league is practically a union of the men who have in a large measure the duties of making railway passengers comfortable. One of its objects will be the agitation of higher salaries to the men who will not be dependent in part upon stray pieces of silver.

MASONIC BODIES WARNED AGAINST BOGUS LODGES.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Grand Master Charles W. Mead, of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of New York, addressed a letter to-day to the lodges within his jurisdiction warning them against clandestine and spurious lodges, which he learns are about to be established in the jurisdiction. He therefore counsels the craft to exercise great care in the admission of visitors.

AMERICAN CAPITALISTS WANT LEASE ON RUSSIAN MINING LANDS

[Correspondence of the Associated Press.]
St. Petersburg, Friday, Dec. 13.—A Siberian newspaper says that American capitalists have offered the Government 36,000,000 roubles for a fifty-year lease of a large stretch of land in the Kirghiz steppes, which are rich in copper, coal and silver. The territory, 200 by 670 versts in extent, lies between Pavlodar and Lake Balkash. Pavlodar is on the Irtysh river, south of Omsk.
Senator Clark, of Montana, has previously been referred to as having been in negotiations with private interests for a large piece of land in the same province—Sempalatinsk.

BODY OF A MAN FOUND IN STEEPLE OF A NEGRO CHURCH

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 26.—The decomposed body of a man was found in the steeple of Mount Zion church on the Gate City car line, about three miles from this city, by two hunters this afternoon. The body was found in a space about two feet square and, owing to its terrible decomposition, the Coroner, who is investigating, is unable to determine whether it is a white man or negro. The man was well dressed and by his side was a large knife. The body lay on three blocks and it is a mystery how it got into the steeple as the only entrance is an eighteen-inch hole in the belfry.

The hunters had gone in the church to get out of the rain and detected the body by the odor arising therefrom.
Mount Zion is a Negro Methodist church.

The United States Steel Corporation
Has Bought About 75,000 Tons of Pig Iron.

INDEPENDENTS BUY BIG LOTS.

Dover, Del., Dec. 26.—Among the certificates of incorporation filed here today was that of the Victoria Coal Company, of Madisonville, Ky., with a capital of $25,000.

Madisonville, Ky., Dec. 26.—[Special.]
—The Monarch Coal Company will, after the first of the year, be known as the Victoria Coal Company, of Madisonville. This company changed hands several days ago, the purchaser being James R. Rash, acting as trustee for persons not named. The stockholders of the company are chiefly Madisonville people. James Rash and his brother, George W. Rash, are believed to be the principal stockholders, although neither will talk about the deal other than to say a deal has been made. At the time of the transfer it was reported that Mr.
Rash, who is the general store manager for the St. Bernard Mining Company, was acting for that company and that it was the purchase of the Monarch wards gave a statement to the press, denying that report. The Monarch property is one of the best plants in Hopkins county.

SURPLUS

Will Prove Annoyance To

IT IS STILL PILING UP.

INTERNAL REVENUE REDUC-TION HAS PROVED BUT

MANY MILLIONS OF FREE GOLD.

Rural Free Delivery Route In Warren County To Be Inaugurated February 1.

THE WINCHESTER POST-OFFICE.

Washington, Dec. 26.—[Special.]— When Gov. Shaw takes hold of the Treasury Department next month he will find a surplus of something like $45,000,000 awaiting him. This surplus is constantly increasing, and, as the Treasury Department, especially the Internal Revenue Bureau, needs some time to prepare for the change of rates after Congress legislates, it will probably be four months before an act designed to reduce revenue will become operative. In the meantime receipts are exceeding expenditures at the rate of $7,000,000 a month. There has already been considerable reduction in aggregate receipts, but expenditures have dropped unexpectedly low, aggregating about $235,000,000, as compared with $255,000,000 for the same period last year. This is mainly due to the reductions made in the disbursements for the War and Navy Departments.
The legislation of the last Congress reduced internal taxes about $13,000,000 for the past six months, instead of $18-000,000 or $20,000,000, as estimated by the Secretary of the Treasury. The customs receipts have increased over $7,000,000, reducing the actual reduction of revenue for the six months to less than $6,000,000, as compared with the corresponding period of the last fiscal year.

The civil expenditures the coming fiscal year will be added to by legislation anticipated by the present Congress.
The Nicaragua canal, the naval increase, the ship subsidy, rivers and harbors and public building bills will make quite an impression upon the Treasury, but even with these increased expenditures the new Secretary will be annoyed by the surplus.

Regardless of the amounts authorized by the Nicaragua canal and other measures provisions will undoubtedly be made regulating the expenditures so that not more than a specified amount shall be expended each year. As an off-hand estimate Treasury officials say the expenditures for Nicaragua and the Subsidy Bill will be fifteen or twenty millions per annum. The advocates of the ship subsidy limit the disbursement on that account to $9,000,000. If authorized, the Isthmian canal will require a sum approximating $10,000,000.

Recent large expenditures of gold have not made material impression on the Treasury holding. The aggregate now held in gold is $337,000,000, an increase since January 1 of $61,000,000. Compared with the first of July last, there has been an increase in the gold held of over $44,000,000. Excluding both those funds the Treasury has in free gold at this time over $114,000,000, which is available in meeting current obligations.

Maryland Legislature Convenes Next Week.

The Maryland Legislature will convene on New Year's day. Under the Constitution it is called to meet the first Wednesday in January, and holiday or no holiday the legislators arrive at the State capital on that day. On next Monday night the Democratic members, following an old custom, will meet in Baltimore and dine together at the Eu-law House. The dinner plan of conferences has long been a favorite one, and the work of the new Legislature will in part be outlined at the meeting.

Spaulding May Soon Retire.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Spaulding is expected to retire from the Treasury Department shortly after Mr.
Gage. It is reported that two Michigan Senators some time ago asked that he be transferred to a place in the public service, possibly in one of our island possessions, where the climate would be less trying and the department could avail itself of his experience in customs matters. Albert H. Washburn, counsel for the Treasury, before the Board of General Appraisers in New York, and Converse J. Smith, special treasury agent in charge of the New England district, are two of the men mentioned to succeed him.

The latter is considered the more probable selection of the two.

Winchester Post-office Right.

Senator Deboe will make a recommendation in the Winchester post-office case when he returns to Washington.
R. R. Perry is the present postmaster.
He is opposed by J. M. Owens, who headed a meeting during the Hunter senatorial race denouncing Gov. Bradley for seeking to prevent the election of Dr. Hunter. Capt. K. J. Hampton

A FEW HOLIDAY INCIDENTS.

Versailles, Ky., Dec. 26.—[Special.]—Scores of cattle are dying in Central Kentucky from a disease, the cause of which is a mystery. Most of the cattle affected have been fed upon corn fodder and the first theory was that they were poisoned by "corn smut," which is present upon the stalks in unusually large quantities this year. Another belief was that the animals died from eating too much dry feed without enough salt and water, but cattle have recently died that had access to both salt and water. The farmers are completely in the dark about the matter and the individual losses are beginning to be serious. Mr. W. L. Grady last night lost a cow worth over $150, making four valuable cows he has lost within a week. At Woodbury, Farm eleven head of Mr. A. J. Alexander's Hereford cattle have died within the past ten days. Mr. J. M. Ledridge lost three head of fat steers this week. Mr. J. M. Elmer two head, Mr. E. M. Holt five head in one day. Mr. D. E. Watts several head, Mr. John H. Field a fine cow. All of these losses have occurred in the vicinity of Versailles.

Lizzie Owens Says Three Men Came To Her Home and Mistreated Her.

London, Ky., Dec. 26.—[Special.]—Lizzie Owens came here from Pittsburgh, Ky., to-day and secured a warrant for the arrest of William Southland, Armp Bryant, Jr., and Charles Bryant, charging them with entering her home, destroying her property and assaulting her and her twelve-year-old son. Her story is that the Bryants and Southland came to her home on Christmas night dressed in women's clothing. Thinking some of the neighbors had called she admitted them and told her son to light a lamp. One of the men told the boy he would be killed if he touched the lamp. Mrs. Owens thought she recognized a feminine figure, and supposing the threat was made in fun she struck a light. Immediately her son was seized, beaten and thrown against the wall with great force. The men, she says, then carried her to the yard and beat and kicked her until she became unconscious. She awoke lying on the ground with all her clothing torn from her body. The cries of her son attracted the attention of neighbors, who carried her in the house and restored her to consciousness.

A LIVELY SCRIMMAGE

Between Sebree's Marshal and a Man Who Cherished a Grudge.

Sebree, Ky., Dec. 26.—[Special.]—Christmas passed off quietly here except the noise of the squibs, giant firecrackers, toy pistols and roman candles and the usual Christmas drunkenness. The evening was far different. James Ashley called City Marshal C. M. Biggs to the rear door of Muth & Wright's restaurant and as soon as Biggs was in the dark Ashley asked him if he remembered a certain thing that took place some four or five years ago. Mr. Biggs answered, "Yes," Ashley said to Biggs, "We will settle it to-night," and at the same time, according to Biggs, struck at Biggs with a knife or stick. The Marshal drew his gun, which he failed to fire, and seeing that it would not be safe to risk the weapon a second time, grabbed Ashley and threw him to the ground. Frank Hall, who was in the restaurant, heard the scuffle, ran out to the assistance of Marshal Biggs and both wrenched the weapon from Ashley's hand. By this time Detective Sutton was on the scene and Ashley was placed under arrest. Biggs received a slight cut on the hand, while the readily said that the cause of the trouble was an old grudge.

DEMOCRATS PREPARE TO MEET

Bloomington, Ind., Dec. 26.—Prof. W. H. Glascock, superintendent of the schools of Bloomington, died this morning at 5 o'clock of paralysis. On November 2 Prof. Glascock was taken sick with typhoid fever, and was seriously ill until December 3, since which time he was apparently rapidly improving, and he was about the house and on the streets for a short time.

Monday he was feeling bad and Tuesday acute ascending paralysis developed. He was unconscious several hours before his death. The burial will take place at Greenfield, his old home, Saturday or Sunday. Exercises will be held here tomorrow.

Prof. Glascock was forty-four years old and he had been superintendent of the city schools since September, 1899. Last year he was associate professor of pedagogy in Indiana University. He was the son of Robert Glascock, of Hancock county, Ind. Prof. Glascock's brother, is now superintendent of the city schools of Lafayette, and Jasper N. Glascock, another brother, is a teacher in this county. Mrs. Hays Shinn, of this city, is a sister, and there is a half-brother and half-sister, the result of his father's second marriage. Early in his educational career Prof. Glascock wedded Miss Alice Cleveland, of Greenfield, who with a son survives him. Prof. Glascock was a man of fine physical appearance, over six feet tall and weighed 240 pounds.

Well-known in Educational Circles.

As an educational worker Prof. Glascock was known all over Indiana, especially among school officers and teachers. For many years he was in demand as an instructor at county teachers' institutes. In his earlier years he was a teacher in a country school. He outgrew the narrow limits of a rural school, however, and was called into the Greenfield city school where he taught for some time. He was superintendent of the Hancock county schools for four years and then became superintendent of the city schools of Bloomington. He was then transferred to Indianapolis in 1891 to become chief deputy under State Superintendent Vorhees. He served in this office until October, 1894, when he resigned to become superintendent of the State Institute for the Blind. Prof. Glascock was at the head of that institution until January, 1898, when he resigned to become a student at the State University of Bloomington, where he prepared himself for educational work. He completed the course at Bloomington and went to the Chicago University, where he further pursued his studies along the same lines. He then returned to Bloomington, where he took charge of the public schools.

LOSES ARMY COMMISSION FOR JILTING THIS GIRL

MISS REBECCA DOUGLASS.

Capt. William P. Crawford, U. S. V., has not yet received his commission as Lieutenant in the regular army, which was held up by Secretary of War Root when he learned the circumstances of the breaking off of the Captain's engagement to Miss Rebecca Douglass, of Chester, S. C. The letter received by the young woman's mother on the morning of the day for the marriage is the basis of the Government's action in declaring the Captain guilty of "conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman." Miss Douglass has sought asylum with relatives in the country and Capt. Crawford's friends are endeavoring to secure a reversal of the Government's decision by setting a good record as a soldier in Cuba and the Philippines.

Edward Port, director of the Majestic Orchestra in Atlanta, Ga., and a Parisian by birth, and Miss Mary M. Lavell, a popular singer and musical instructor, of this city; Henry Hannum, an official of the West Jersey and Seashore railroad of Atlantic City, and Miss Martha Praine, a society girl here, were married to-day by the Rev. Louis Gueney. They met under romantic circumstances, the former couple at Olney, Ill., the latter in Chicago, three years ago.

TRAVELED FROM CUBA TO CANADA.

A Journey of Two Thousand Miles, By Sea and Rail, To Marry the Girl of His Choice.

St. Louis, Dec. 26.—[Special.]—A journey of 2,000 miles by sea and rail to wed the girl of his choice was successfully made by C. L. Wright, a former employee in the St. Louis Recorder of Deeds office, now employed in the office of the Auditor of the city of Cuba.

THE YOUNG WOMAN WAS MISS MARGARET GRIFFITH, OF ST. LOUIS.

Miss Griffith and Mr. Wright were married Monday afternoon in Toronto, Canada, where the young woman was completing a course of study in the historic old Loretto Abbey convent, where she has been for nearly a year.

Life in Cuba proved homesome to Wright. Convent rules proved irksome to the American girl, augmented, no doubt, by the tender letters from the persistent Wright. Persuaded to acquiescence by her sister, Miss Griffith yielded to Wright's entreaties. Accordingly he secured thirty days' leave of absence and set out for Toronto. Arriving there Monday he sought Miss Griffith. The Abbey faculty at first resented the sweetheart's, with inherent American persistency, refused to yield. The wedding was held with a large number of guests after the couple were married in St. Michael's Palace.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright arrived in St. Louis Christmas day and are stopping with relatives at 5218 Ridge avenue.

Mr. Wright will return to Havana in a week, taking with him an American bride to share his fortunes in the Cuban capital.

FINAL DETAILS.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE FOR ELKS' DISTRIBUTION TOMORROW.

Mr. Brown Issues An Important Notice To All Members of Committees.

Every Elk who has been assigned and accepted for duty on the Marshals, Santa Claus and other committees is most urgently requested to be at the home of the Elks' Club at 5 o'clock sharp to be instructed in his duties. So much is to be done and done right that an army of our good brothers are needed for service Saturday. Let every Elk take this as a special personal notification.

R. S. BROWN, Gen. Chairman.
December 27, 1901.

The Elks' Christmas Tree Committee met at the Elks' Home last night and heard final reports of the various committees. Chairman David Hirsch, of Clothing and Shoe Committee, reported the following firms as having made donations: David Baird & Son, trimmed hats for little girls; Kentucky Jeans Clothing Company, trousers; Bensinger Bros., children's chairs; Hupp, Richardson & Co., trousers; Louis Appel, children's; F. W. Johnson & Sons, hats; Van B. Nelson Clothing Company, boys' clothing; Ox Breches Company, trousers; M. S. Moses, clothing; and Henry Edleman, hats.

Committee to furnish ice was appointed by Chairman Robert S. Brown and Jack Ropke was made chairman with instruction to furnish ice for water to be placed in barrels for the use of the little ones. Edward Klauber, Gus Kane and George Kidenour have been placed in charge of the furnishing of sandwiches for the children. Five thousand sandwiches will be prepared for the New Year's Home and distributed by the marshals.

Capt. J. P. Jacobs and Capt. Tom Marshall, both Elks, are assisted by Sgt. Phil Gunther and twenty policemen, will preserve order and help take care of the guests. No wagons or vehicles of any kind except street cars will be allowed to traverse Walnut street, between Third and Fourth during the hours of distribution.

In order to facilitate the distribution Chief Marshal, William E. Riley, wishes to emphasize the fact that those children living in the outlying districts will be served first. Those in the First and Twelfth wards at 9 o'clock in the morning, those in the Second and Eleventh at 10 o'clock and those of the Third and Tenth wards at 11 o'clock.

The remaining members of the committee, like order, those living closest to the home will be reserved till the last. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock and the last one will receive the same attention as the first. The distribution is to be continued over the next few days.

Only those children having tickets will be admitted. Any member of the lodge who wishes to be present on Saturday will please call at the home to-night and be placed on some committee and receive a badge, as only those having some duty to perform will be allowed to come to the home.

The following names have been added to Al Bourlier's Santa Claus Committee: Wesley Edelman, Benjamin Washburn, Larry Leopold, Max Floyd, Henry Goldsmith, Otto Seelbach, Isadore Krawback, Charles Frick, Albert Straus, Louis Oberdorfer and Norton Goldsmith.

The Decoration Committee, Matt Wilson, chairman, and the Santa Claus Committee, are busy engaged in trimming the tree. Harry I. Wood and the Elks' League Committee superintended the placing of the lights on the tree. When it is completed it will probably be one of the handsomest Christmas trees ever seen in this city. It will be allowed to remain standing over Sunday for the benefit of the public. The decorations received yesterday were United States Bakery Company, 2,000 buns; C. H. Smith, $5; S. Bush $5 and Mrs. Emma Waller $5.

The Package Committee, Howard Wedekemper, chairman, will meet at 7 o'clock to-night to complete their work. Mrs. Pink Varble, chairwoman of the ladies' auxiliary, also reported the committee's work. The ladies' auxiliary will be ready to start at 10 o'clock. Any Elk and any Elk's wife, mother or daughter can call and help in this noble work.

Members who are familiar with the shoe and clothing business are especially invited to come, as their advice is needed.

TRAVELED FROM CUBA TO CANADA.

St. Louis, Dec. 26.—[Special.]—A journey of 2,000 miles by sea and rail to wed the girl of his choice was successfully made by C. L. Wright, a former employee in the St. Louis Recorder of Deeds office, now employed in the office of the Auditor of the city of Cuba.

THE YOUNG WOMAN WAS MISS MARGARET GRIFFITH, OF ST. LOUIS.

Miss Griffith and Mr. Wright were married Monday afternoon in Toronto, Canada, where the young woman was completing a course of study in the historic old Loretto Abbey convent, where she has been for nearly a year.

NEW CONSTITUTION RATIFIED BY METHODISTS.

It Gives Women the Right To Sit As Delegates In the General Conference.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—Announcement was made here to-day that the new constitution of the Methodist Episcopal church, which was adopted at the last general conference of that denomination, held at the Auditorium in 1900, and referred to the various conferences throughout the country, has finally been approved by the three-year vote required. The vote is as follows: Ayes, 1,095; nays, 2,513. The element which opposed the new organic law of the church because it provided for the admission of women as delegates to the general conference, made up the bulk of the opposition. The principal changes provided for by the new constitution are:

It gives women the right to sit as delegates in the general conference.

It gives ladies' electoral meetings authority to vote on constitutional questions.

It changes the vote necessary in the general conference to amend the constitution from three-fourths to two-thirds.

"Business."

Thursday Evening, Dec. 26.—The volume of transactions was materially increased in Wall street, and something like a bear panic came in Sugar, with material advances in other shares near the close. The dealings in Sugar were about $5,000 shares, and after a drive to 100% it was rallied in the afternoon to 115%, closing at 112 1/2. Railroad stocks were forced lower on decreases in earnings for some important roads, but rose materially in the afternoon. Money was easier on bond purchases, ranging from 4 1/2 per cent. on call, and closing at 4 bid and offered at 4 1/2. The market looks for a rapid return of money from the interior. Sterling was firm. Government bonds were strong and railroad issues firm.

Grain was strong, wheat closing 1/2% higher. Corn was a shade easier, but was closed on 1/2%. Ribs were 12 1/2c to 13c higher, and pork gained 2 1/2c. Cotton was quiet.

Cattle in Chicago were strong and active at first, but closed dull. Hogs were active and 10c higher. Sheep gained 10 1/2c, and lambs 15 1/2c.

Growth of Interurban Railways.

The rumor of a trolley street railway to connect St. Louis with New York, a scheme of more importance than that of the Everett-Moore syndicate, which is to bind together all the lake cities, is an indication of the wonderful progress made in the building of interurban electric lines. The wonder is increased when it is recalled that it was only fifteen years ago that electricity was introduced as a motive power for street railways. People who visited the Southern Exposition, held in this city in 1883, may recall the little electric car line that ran around Central Park, and was then looked upon as nothing more than an ingenious toy. Now it has displaced animals and cables, and all other forms of traction power in cities, and is rapidly being applied to interurban transportation. The interurban road was first installed less than ten years ago, and two years since the invention of the tri-phase system of power transmission enormously stimulated construction of both freight and passenger systems.

As street railway transportation is the greatest boon to residents of cities, especially workmen, who are thus enabled to get the advantage of cheap suburban homes, and are carried promptly, swiftly and safely to their work, so the interurban railway promises a like boon to the inhabitants of rural communities. They at once open up communication between, neighbors and markets, adding immensely to the attractiveness of rural life and increasing the valuations of farming and suburban property. Besides carrying passengers, they are now undertaking the transportation of freight and thus enabling farmers new facilities, both for marketing their products and for buying of the cheaper and more extensive stocks of the great city stores.

The trolley lines are enabled to do this because of the great cheapness of the power; the fact that the cars can be taken up grades which are impossible to steam locomotives, and the lower capitalization of the lines. The average capitalization of steam railroads, according to the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission for 1900, was $61,000 per mile, while the average capitalization of interurban roads is only $35,000 per mile. Operating expenses are also very much less, the average for steam railroads being 64.9 per cent. and of the trolley lines only 54 per cent. In exceptional cases the operating ratio may go as low as 40 to 45 per cent. On the other hand, the earnings are very large, the trolley having fixed fares for certain distances, while the passengers may not go more than a third or a quarter of the way. On steam railroads passengers are charged so much per mile.

The interurban roads have every prospect of rapid extension, as they at-ford the best means of solving local transportation problems and are distinctly in the public interest.

Which Canal Route?

The stockholders of the Panama canal have instructed the management to sell out for the best price that can be secured. It is likely that the United States can get it for $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 instead of the $100,141,500 asked originally by M. Hutin. Furthermore, the company will not seek to be made a partner in the enterprise. The changed conditions will make it more difficult than ever to choose between the two routes, already a sufficiently perplexing problem, and there are many considerations in favor of the route chosen by DeLesseps. The Isthmian Canal Commission recommended the Nicaragua route, but that was naturally influenced by the early demands of M. Hutin, president of the French company. In view of the concessions it is likely the matter will be taken up again.

The commission found certain advantages in each of the routes and disadvantages as compared with the other. The cost under the new conditions will be about the same. The commission estimated the value of the Panama plant and work done at $40,000,000. The excavating already done was figured at $27,474,033; $6,850,000 was allowed for the cost of the Panama railroad at par, and $2,000,000 for the maps, drawings and records with 10 per cent. added for cost of omissions. It is estimated that it will require ten years to complete the Panama, while the Nicaragua can be built in eight. On the other hand, the commission figures that the expense of constructing the Nicaragua canal will be $45,630,740 more than in the case of the Panama, and that the annual cost of maintenance will be $1,300,000 more. This annual cost at 3 per cent. would represent an extra outlay of $43,333,333 if provided for by a funded loan. The Panama would also be a sea level canal, while the Nicaragua would require a number of locks. The Nicaragua route would be the most convenient for passage from our Eastern ports to the Pacific coast and the Orient, two days being gained over the Panama, but for voyages to South America the Panama would offer great advantages.

The engineering estimates have been drawn up after very careful investigation and may be relied upon. Incidental questions must arise as to cost, but it would seem that the cheaper maintenance of the Panama route entitles it to favorable consideration. Either is practicable, but the Panama being only about a third of the length of the Nicaragua gives it an advantage that cannot be ignored. Besides, in the opinion of a great many engineers it is the better of the two routes for engineering reasons. It follows, therefore, that the offer of the Panama stockholders ought to be carefully considered.

Mr. Barrett's Farewell.

In severing his connection with the Pan-American Congress United States Delegate John Barrett took occasion to make an extended address.

What Mr. Barrett said has a certain interest in connection with the statement that has been widely published that the United States have been to a great extent disappointed in the deliberations of the conference. In fact, not a great deal was expected from this meeting by the people of the United States, and the lack of interest felt in it has been reflected in the meager reports published by most of the newspapers of the country. It is true, however, in a great way, that the holding of the congress has given occasion to the publication in the Spanish-American press of various articles expressing distrust of the United States, of which the following from the Buenos Ayres Herald may serve as a specimen:

"It would be a distinct gain if the people and the Government of the United States would get over the notion that this part of the world is a backwater, thinking how overwhelming is its love and admiration. We as a people do not love the United States; we are envious, suspicious, proud in the exact ratio of our weakness, and our trend is all toward Europe and not toward the United States, and they who represent us to the contrary do it through ignorance or they seek diplomatic elements or well-rounded periods, and the sooner Americans recognize the truth the better will it be for them and us."

The people of the United States have read expressions of this sort without surprise. They also are not lying awake at night yearning for the admiration of Latin-Americans, for they know that if they did they would suffer severely from insomnia. Still our people are not wholly indifferent to the good opinion of their neighbors, and are willing to disabuse their minds of unfounded suspicions if it can be done without too much exertion.

It seems to have been partly with a view to doing this that Mr. Barrett made his farewell speech. He spent a good deal of time in explaining to the other members why the American delegates could not commit their Government and people to anything definitely until it was ratified by the Senators, representing forty-five States, who are not responsible to the President or the State Department. This peculiarity of our Government, however, ought to have been well enough known to the other delegates, who must be presumed to have devoted some attention to our form of Government, the more so as most of their countries have made it their model. Further on, however, Mr. Barrett came to speak of the sort of opposition which the United States delegates had had to meet in the Congress. It was a somewhat delicate subject upon which to touch, but Mr. Barrett probably thought that as he was on the point of going away he could afford to mention it. He said frankly that what they had been obliged to meet was the opposition and criticism of what is called the clerical press in Mexico, Central and South America. He parried this criticism rather cleverly when he said that the clerical press of the United States is in sympathy with the Government, and stands with it to aid its purpose to promote cordial relations with all the countries of the Western hemisphere. He, therefore, insisted that the clerical press in that section spoke only for itself. This was not, perhaps, exactly fair, as there is no clerical press in the United States representing a distinct political party, as in some Latin-American countries. It is, however, quite true that the nearest approach we have to a clerical press is quite with the Government, without reference to the party in power, in desiring to preserve the best possible relations with all our neighbors, and that is a fact which was certainly pertinent to mention. In Spanish-American countries clerical is another name for Conservative, as opposed to the Liberal party, a distinction that does not obtain in the United States, where religious newspapers are either neutral in politics or divided in their political preferences. At all events Mr. Barrett was quite right in assuring his hearers that the American people were practically unanimous in desiring to see other American republics enjoying the largest liberty and the greatest prosperity.

Mr. Barrett also essayed the rather difficult task of explaining to the Latin-Americans what they call our Chinese (tariff) wall. He assured them that this was not erected out of any hostility to them, but was due to the necessity of protecting every part of a great country with many diversified industries. It is doubtful whether this was very satisfactory to the representatives of the other countries. It is true, however, though Mr. Barrett forgot to mention it, that Latin-Americans have less reason than the people of some other countries to complain of our tariff, which admits many of the products of their countries free of duty, notably coffee and rubber. Nevertheless, the disposition of the South Americans to trade with Europe is not wholly controlled by sentiment, and it will yield whenever our people are able and willing to offer them the goods they want at lower prices and on as favorable terms as others. The conditions of successful trade with Latin-America are by this time pretty well understood, and no number of international conferences can materially change them.

"Senator Platt admits that Mayor-elect Low has asked for the passage of a bill amending the Raines law. The Senator says he has taken the matter into consideration, but does not disclose the character of the legislation desired by Mr. Low, nor does he say that it is likely to be enacted. He simply says he is considering the proposition. The probability is that neither Low nor Jerome will get what he wants in this matter, and that the new Mayor will have to accommodate his policy to existing laws and conditions."

To fully appreciate this it must be borne in mind that Platt is not a member of the House of Representatives of the State of New York, nor of the Senate of the State of New York; neither is he Governor of the State of New York. Yet it is to the Legislature and Governor of the State of New York that the city of New York must look for an amendment of the Raines law; while Mr. Platt's duties are supposed to be at Washington, in the Senate of the United States. "Our system of constitutional government" is a sounding phrase which can often be contracted into one word—"Boss."

At a dinner this week to Justice O'Brien, one of the winners at the recent New York election, ex-Senator David B. Hill told a pointed story. "I met a man the other day who talked about the election. I was careful about my utterances. Then he told a story of a man who saw a funeral, and asked a bystander who had died. He mentioned the man's name. 'What was his complaint?' asked the bystander. 'Never wasn't any complaint; everybody was satisfied,' was the reply. 'As no names were mentioned, it may be pertinent to inquire, for Mr. Croker's information, whether Mr. Van Wyck was the only corpse Mr. Hill had in mind.'"

Most egotistically remarks that if the world should establish an anarchist island he would probably be made its King. This seems to assume that people who believe in no government would, if condemned to live exclusively with themselves, forthwith proceed to establish a strong government, headed by a King. However, the world would have no objection to Most's being made a King among anarchists, in view of their peculiar opinions as to the limited use to which Kings should be put.

Several suicides and an estimated loss of $100,000,000 sustained by thousands of people have resulted from the big slump in Amalgamated Copper stock. And yet there is a cheerful scoundrel in New York who is boasting in newspaper interviews that he deliberately worked up this slump for no other purpose than revenge against the company because it discharged him.

And now somebody claims to have invented a telephone by which talk can be carried all over the country without wires. But the use of such a telephone would be very limited. Few would care to telephone when everybody could hear.

A New York newspaper has made the discovery, which it publishes with flattering display, that one of the Roosevelt children was spanked by his nurse-Christina eve. It has been a long time since any journal scored such a scoop as that.

ADOPT RESOLUTIONS.

WORK FOR KENTUCKY'S DELEGATION IN CONGRESS.

Society Celebrates Washington's Victory At Trenton With a Banquet.

MR. GEORGE T. WOOD PRESIDES.

The Kentucky Society, Sons of the American Revolution, had a banquet last evening at Klein's which had as its original purpose the annual commemoration of Washington's great victory at Trenton. But the local celebration took on increased interest by the introduction and unanimous approval of two sets of resolutions, which showed that the society stood resolutely by Rear Admiral Schley, and were also opposed with equal intensity to anarchy or any of its kind.

The Kentucky Society, Sons of the American Revolution, desire to express in the strongest terms its admiration for, and confidence in Rear Admiral W. S. Schley, the hero of Santiago, and to the Senators and Representatives in Congress from Kentucky to do all in their power to secure for him the reward that is so justly his.

Resolved, That copies of this action on the part of the Kentucky Society be sent to Rear Admiral Schley, the Senators and Representatives in this State.

The society on the subject of anarchy spoke clear and true. President McKinley's assassination was most heartily deplored, except in so far as his awful taking-off might "result in a greater respect for the law and a more conscientious execution thereof."

The society in this connection indorses "so much of President Roosevelt's message as refers to anarchy," and suggests that it be made a part of the course of instruction in the public schools, "that the children may know the horrors of anarchy and that liberty is no license."

The society also urges Kentucky Senators and Congressmen "to support any measure that will rid the country of anarchists, and forever keep out those who hold to such damnable doctrines."

This resolution, in full, is as follows: No thoughtful man, who loves his country, can view with unconcern the growing feeling of unrest that is among the masses of the people, and which found its expression in the deplorable assassination of William McKinley, late President of the United States.

If the untimely taking-off of President McKinley shall result in greater respect for the law and a more conscientious execution thereof, this will be his removal, horrible as it is, have been a greater blessing than his life could possibly have been.

This society deplors the death of competent McKinley, and to his wife we extend our sincere sympathies, and to the people we commend his example as an example of a good citizen.

We indorse so much of President Roosevelt's message as refers to anarchy, and suggest that it be made a part of the course of instruction in the public schools, "that the children may know the horrors of anarchy and that liberty is no license."

Resolved, That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be urged to support any measure that will rid the country of anarchists, and forever keep out those who hold to such damnable doctrines.

toxic anti-diphtheritic serum which caused the recent deaths of thirteen children from tetanus. He distributed the vials, properly labeled, he stated, because the supply of diphtheria antitoxin had become exhausted early in October, and he did not believe that the serum was "bad enough to kill children."

WOULD LIKE TO MEET FITZ FIRST.

Jeffries To Seek Match
With "Lanky Bob"
First of All.

IS THE BEST DRAWING CARD.

If the Cornishman Declines Jim Corbett Will Get the Next Chance.

NEXT MATCH TO BE IN MARCH.

JAMES J. JEFFRIES, the world's heavyweight champion, is in Kansas City, filling a short but attractive engagement. Jeffries is anxious to give all the championship aspirants a chance. With that end in view the Jeffries party, in charge of Manager Delaney, will go from Kansas City to New York, with a short lay-off in Chicago. Jeffries, when asked in regard to his quitting the road and future plans, said:

"I am thoroughly tired of giving exhibitions. We will go from Kansas City to New York, and then we will talk business straight from the shoulder.

"Of course, Fitzsimmons is the man above all others that I prefer to meet.
Not only because it would be the best drawing card, but because he has made certain insinuations about being doped when I defeated him at Coney Island.

Now, he is indulging in much fight talk of late, and if he means what he says, he cannot avoid meeting me without making a complete breakdown, which would practically dispose of him and stop his talk.

He will have the first chance.

"Should Fitzsimmons not want to meet me, then Corbett will be given next call, although it is about a stand-off between him and Sharkey as to who is entitled to it. Anyhow, I think Sharkey will get a chance.

"Now, should these three decline the issue, then some of the lesser lights will be accommodated, first come, first served.
However, those without a moderate reputation will be required to put up a suitable side bet, so that I will not come out for the bait on the street, as my training expenses are heavy."

"How about your go with Ruhlman? Did he down or was he whipped?"

"Oh, I don't think he was a quitter.
He was a very tough fellow, and when he went to his corner the last time he was all doubled up and seemed terribly distressed. He was light really was better, though, than is generally thought.

"I went to his floor three times from body punches. They were fierce blows, too, as I threw every pound of my weight into them."

"I think my next match will be pulled off in March or April, and I prefer having it in San Francisco. There is good police protection there and plenty of lovers of the sport."

News Notes of the Boxers.

Jim Corbett's old sparring partner, Jim Daly, is on the stage again. He is in Philadelphia sparring with James J. Farrell.

Boxing clubs are springing up like mushrooms in Philadelphia. There are now seven organizations in that city active in bringing on weekly bouts, and two more are promised to get into the field within the next week.

Lovers of the boxing game and who are well in touch with "Spikie" Sullivan's method of fighting say he has gone back in form from his recent showing with Danny Duane. Those who saw Sullivan in his battle with Duane say he mixed guts up instead of acting in a clever way.

Al Welch has been matched with Dan Creedon by the New Vapor Valley Athletic Club, of Hot Springs, Ark., for a twenty-round battle in Hot Springs January 23. Frank Chalmers also has been matched by the club for a go with Joe Walcott, the battle to take place the middle of February.

Art Simms has arrived in Akron from San Francisco, and will at once begin training for his go with Martin Duffy on January 23. Simms declares Western fighters were afraid of him, and issued a deft to anyone in the business at 125 pounds.

C. E. Davies, who is well known to the sporting fraternity as Parson Dave, has been matched for a purse of $10,000 with a guest of his old friend, Tom O'Rourke, at the Delevan. Davies said that he had been in England to look after his interests in the oil business, as he owns two oil fields in Beaumont, Tex., and is desirous of increasing his trade in Europe.

The two Gardner, Eddie and Gus, have been matched for a ten-round contest before the Phoenix Athletic Club, of Memphis. They will meet on Monday, December 31, under straight Marquis of Queensberry rules.

Joe Humphreys, writing from New York, announces there will be a meeting of the American Promoters' Association in that city soon. Humphreys, who is at present traveling with Terry McGovern, has offered to make a match between McGovern and Dave Sullivan. Joe is the matchmaker of the Waterbury Athletic Club, of Waterbury, Conn.

Tommy West, the New York middleweight who went abroad several months ago, had a trial in private at the National Sporting Club, London, a few nights ago. He met Alf Rowan and made a good impression. West has challenged Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, and it is quite likely that the two will come together in the near future.

The New Vapor Valley Athletic Club, of Hot Springs, Ark., is out with an offer of $10,000 and 50 per cent. of the fight picture privileges for the McGovern and Young Corbett fight. The club is backed by Arkansas politicians, and proposes to build a pavilion for the fight and to take place on a twenty-round contest to take place on St. Patrick's day.

Alek Greigavins, matchmaker for the San Francisco Athletic Club, accepted Jack Root's challenge to meet George W. Call, secretary.

The Retail Grocers' Association gave a stag smoker last night at Patterson Hall, Jefferson street, between Third and Fourth streets, which furnished great pleasure to the large crowd in attendance. The occasion served as a good opportunity for not only members of the association, but also various employes, to meet in social intercourse and come into better acquaintance with the community of interest binding them.

The officers of the association are A.
J. Ross, president; William Moore, vice president; M. J. Doll, treasurer; George W. Call, secretary.

The recently elected officers of St. Edward's Commandery, Knights of St. John, and of St. Edward's Cadets will be installed to-night in St. Joseph Hall, on East Eighth street, near Spring.

The officers have been elected by New Albany Lodge of Masons as follows: Olio

HEAVY TRAFFIC REPORTED BY THE RAILROADS.

Chesapeake and Ohio Reported All Previous Records—Two Offices Changed.

The passenger agents of all the railroad lines entering Louisville say the holiday traffic was heavier this year than for any previous year. The Big Four, Baltimore and Ohio, Southern and Pennsylvania lines did a good business between Louisville and points in Indiana and Ohio.

The Chesapeake and Ohio, Southern and Louisville and Nashville report a good business to points in Kentucky and the South.

Mr. R. E. Parsons, district passenger agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio, said: "The Chesapeake and Ohio did the best holiday business it has ever done. Hundreds of people took advantage of the low rates."

C. and O. Changes.

Notices were received in Louisville yesterday announcing the appointment of Mr. Thornton Lewis as general Western freight agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio, with headquarters in Cincinnati.

The office of W. F. Hite, division freight agent of the Western division, will be transferred from Huntington, W. Va., to Ashland on January 1.

The office of Mr. F. M. Whitaker, freight traffic manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio, will also be removed on January 1 from Cincinnati to Richmond, Va.

Mr. Tayloe Here.

Mr. W. H. Tayloe, assistant general passenger agent of the Southern railway, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., is in Louisville to spend a few days. Mr. Tayloe's headquarters were formerly in Louisville and he comes back when an opportunity presents itself.

Valuable Art Calendar Free.

Perhaps none of the many high-priced calendars found in the art stores this season will possess more real beauty and worth than the Fair Art Calendar for 1902, offered by the Fair Art Company, Inc. It not only eclipses all former efforts of this company, but it undoubtedly excels all rivalry. This fine work of art is indeed a work of art, and must be seen to be appreciated.

Aside from the calendar proper, there are four Art Supplements presenting exquisite figure compositions selected from the famous Paris salon pictures, painted by the celebrated French artist, Edouard Blisson. Each of these pictures is faithfully reproduced in all the beautiful colors of the original. They bear no likeness whatever, and are therefore suitable for framing and valuable as most excellent reproductions of four famous paintings. Each is well worthy of being framed for any household, but they can be used for decorative purposes without framing, as each is provided with a fastener.

The X. K. Fairbank Company is mailing the beautiful calendar FREE to one returning TEN FAIRBANK'S FAIRY SOAP FRONTS, or sending twelve two-cent stamps. Returning ten oval fronts, however, is the best and surest way to obtain the Fair Art Calendar. All grocers sell FAIRY SOAP.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses were issued yesterday: John H. Brown and Alice Towns, Mac Collen and Thelma Boninger, Frank Lechridge and Sallie Wallace, Thomas E. Armstrong and Orville Eitel Davis, Charles Ducker and Sarah E. Amlett, John Lawson and Mary Ellen Golder, Richard B. Muller and Katie Meyers, Henry Hovess and Margaret C. Soins, Benjamin Franklin Ireland, Jr., and Grace Belle Sherwood, Horace Bedford and Lula Sticker, Horace L. Wisner and Althea B. Sloane.

STILL FIGHT.

Contest Between Stockyard Companies.

ANOTHER SUIT FILED.

ACTION TO FORCE L. AND N. TO CARRY CARGO OF HOGS.

THE COMPANY NOW REFUSES

Will Not Accept Stock To Be Taken From Central To The Bourbon Yards.

AN OLD WILL IS REVIVED.

The contest between the Central stockyards and the Bourbon stockyards started another legal chapter yesterday when Stewart, Sanders, Miller & Co., livestock brokers, entered suit for a mandatory order to compel the L. and N. to accept from the Southern at one of its physical connections a double-decked car of hogs and deliver the same to Louis P. Bornwasser at the Bourbon stockyards, the L. and N.'s livestock depot in Louisville.

The petition after stating the often repeated points in the controversy, says that on December 26 the plaintiffs bought for Bornwasser 130 hogs at the Central stockyards for shipment to him at the Bourbon stockyards. The L. and N., it is said, announced that it would refuse to receive said car or any car of live stock originating from Central stockyards, Ky., and destined to the Bourbon stockyards.

Bornwasser is a pork packer in the eastern portion of the city and it is alleged that the distance from Central stockyards, Ky., is too great to drive the hogs through the street.

Judge Miller granted a restraining order and the motion for a preliminary injunction will be heard January 4.

Suit Grows Out of Old Will.

Edmund Sale, who died in February, 1932, provided in his will in selling certain land on the Louisville and Middle-town turnpike, a space not exceeding 400 square feet should be set apart and include the grave of his wife and should be a burial place for his family. This lot is located 192 1/2 feet from the north-west corner of Blackburn road and Arturbern avenue.

A suit was filed yesterday by N. Agnes Offutt, one of Sale's heirs, in which she claims that Patrick O'Brien is now holding the property without right or title and adverse to the rights of herself and the other heirs.

She alleges that on July 12, 1932, the Respondent, Patrick O'Brien, unlawfully and secretly disinterred the bodies of Edmund Sale and his wife, Mary Hardin Sale, and removed them to Cave Hill cemetery, where they were interred along with the remains of a stranger. She asks for $1,000 damages from the Respondent, $200 from O'Brien and that she be given the title to the property.

Does Not Want To Pay Taxes.

The Y. M. C. A. entered suit yesterday for an injunction to prevent Sheriff Henry A. Bell from reporting an alleged unlawful sale of the association's property for State taxes for $429.76. The petition alleges that the association is engaged in religious and educational work and is an institution of purely public charity and public education not used or employed for gain, and that therefore its property is exempt from taxation. Judge Barker granted a restraining order. The motion for a preliminary injunction will be heard January 2.

A suit involving the liability of the association for city taxes is now under submission before Judge Toney.

Four Unhappy Couples.

Suit for divorce was entered yesterday by Joseph Wick from Mary Wick. They were married June 30, 1897, and improper conduct is alleged.

Josephine Stiles sued for divorce from Joseph Stiles on the alleged ground of drunkenness. They were married October 26, 1897. Mrs. Stiles asks for the custody of their two children.

SOME LITTLE MEN OF THE CHRISTMASTIDE

A dry goods store messenger boy, scarcely so high as the yard-long bundle he was carrying, dropped into the office of the chairman of the Elks' Christmas Tree Committee yesterday afternoon.

"How's tricks?" piped his shortness, "I jest brought you somethin'." As he dropped the big bundle on a chair—"see, it was heavy."

"How old are you, son?" asked a man in the office curiously. "Ten goin' on 'leven, but I been working two years, though," replied the youngster in his quick, sharp voice.

"Don't you go to school?" "Course I goes to school, night school 'ev'ry evenin'."

"Where is your father?" "Several men in the office had collected about the boy by this time, but it did not embarrass him in the least.

"He's dead. Maw, she severs when she can. Me and big sister s'ports the family."

"Big sister?" "Yes, she's most fifteen and she makes $2 a week. I make that, too, but I'll make more some day."

"How old are you and your big sister live on $4 a week?" exclaimed a listener, astonished.

"The little man stuck his hands in his pocket and turned on his questioner contemptuously.

"Shure," he snuffed, "maw and me and big sister and little sister and little brother, all of us live on it. But not for long, 'cause I'm goin' to make more money." And he nodded his head confidently. "But, say, I ain't president yet. I reckon I'd better blow."

"Wait a minute," called the chairman, as young Mr. Independence started for the door. "Wouldn't you like to go to the Elks' Christmas tree on Saturday?"

"Aw, what are you givin' me? Christmas tree? Me at a Christmas tree? You want me to carry the bundle? Why, who would give me anything?"

"At last they made him understand. "And can I bring big sister and little sister and little brother?" he cried aloud, dancing in his excess of joy.

"Yes," they told him. "It's all honest. You ain't stringin' me?" he questioned anxiously.

"It's all honest," the men said almost solemnly.

"Good-bye, I'm going to tell mother," and he darted for the door. Suddenly he stopped, turned and came back.

"I had almost forgotten, sirs, to thank you," he said to the chairman, with an awkward little bow.

"At this is a sample of the children whom the Elks wish to help."

But all the good boys are not poor boys. There are youngsters just as lucky and self-sacrificing who have plenty to eat and plenty to wear. Two in this class are nephews of one of the most deeply interested in the Elks' Christmas tree.

Christmas morning their uncle was surprised by a visit from the "kids." They did not shout nor yell "Christmas gift!" but, instead, seemed unusually serious. They requested a private interview and then they had got their uncle in a room they faced him, all solemnly.

"Uncle," began Will, the elder, seriously, "we're bank robbers."

"Why, bless my soul," exclaimed the lawyer uncle. "Bank robbers! What do you kids mean?"

"Yes," continued Will, "we're bank robbers. Lewis and me busted out banks this mornin'. We'd been a-savin' and saving and saving for months a cent at a time and planning to spend it all on Christmas. But this mornin' we just 'cided to bust the bank and give it to you to buy some of the poor boys shoes that haven't got any. Here it is. Be mighty careful with it, and Lewis handed over a package done up in much paper.

The two bank robbers walked solemnly away. The uncle opened the package. It contained thirty-seven cents. But they had been saving and looking forward to spending it for months.

COMMERCIAL CLUB'S RECEPTION

IN HONOR OF THE ELKS.

Recognition of What Lodge Is Doing For City's Poor—Honorary Membership For Mr. R. W. Brown.

Mr. J. C. Van Pelt, secretary of the Commercial Club, yesterday announced the arrangements for the club's annual New Year reception. The affair will be held in the parlors of the Louisville Hotel from 10 a. m. to 12 on Wednesday. It will be given in honor of the Louisville Lodge of Elks No. 8, for what they are doing for the city's poor. A certificate of honorary membership will be given to Mr. R. W. Brown, one of the oldest members of the organization, and now one of the directors.

Invitations containing the "menu" will be sent out within the next few days. The "menu" is as follows:

Better acquaintance. Reunion. Muste. Refreshments. It is desired by the club that every member who attends the reception will bring some one with him. By this plan it is hoped that more persons will become interested in the work of the club.

BIG SERVICE AT MACAULEY'S SUNDAY EVENING.

The Rev. Dr. E. L. Powell Will Preach—The Pastor's Plan.

A great meeting is being planned by the congregation of the First Christian church at Macauley's Theater next Sunday night. As it is the last Sunday night in the old year and the first meeting in Macauley's, an especial effort is being made to have one of the greatest services and one of the most successful meetings in the series thus far. The sermon by the Rev. E. L. Powell will be on the vital theme, "A King in Chains or the Bondage of Sin."

The quartet will be the regular quartet of the church with one exception. Miss Flora Bertelle will sing a solo. The other members, under the direction of Mr. Frederick A. Cowies, are Miss Lida Mear, Mr. T. Grant Slaughter, Mr. Frank Quast. In addition a large chorus, composed of some forty or fifty voices will assist the young men of the church—a force of twenty-five or thirty will serve as ushers. Every arrangement will be made for the comfort and convenience of those who come. The services will begin at 7:30 p. m. Each last Sunday night in the month these services will be held in Macauley's Theater. There are no reserved seats. Everybody is welcome.

There are many—as previous meetings have proved—who will come into a meeting conducted in a theater or hall who will not, for some reason, attend the regular church services.
